Congratulations on officially becoming a member of our GW family! This handbook serves as a guide to what will be going on over the summer, important dates, tasks for you to complete, and reminders for what’s to come. We encourage you to hang onto this and refer to it as needed. We cannot wait to meet you in August. Until then, take a moment to learn a little more about your new home!

The year was 1821...

GW was founded in 1821 as “Columbian College.” In 1904, the name changed to the George Washington University. At the same time, the university’s colors changed to “buff and blue” to commemorate George Washington. The colors matched the uniform he wore when he resigned his position as Commander-in-Chief of the Continental Army in 1783. The “fighting George” emblem with “Colonials” emblazoned beneath George Washington wearing a tri-cornered “GW” hat came into being in 1998.

History of the Hippo

Former University President Stephen Joel Trachtenberg purchased a bronze statue of a hippo from an antique store while on a vacation in New England in 1996. As a gift to the class of 2000, the hippo statue was placed outside Lisner Auditorium. It was declared GW’s unofficial mascot in 2001. Students rub its head and put coins in its mouth for good luck.

GW Fight Song

Hail to the Buff!
Hail to the Blue!
Hail to the Buff and Blue!
All our lives we’ll be proud to say,
"We hail from GW" (GO BIG BLUE!)
Oh, by George we’re happy we can say,
"We’re GW, here to show the way!"
So raise high the Buff (BUFF!)
Raise high the Blue (BLUE!)
Loyal to GW
You bet we’re
Loyal to GW (FIGHT!)

Raise High!

First-Year Pre-Orientation Programs

Pre-orientation programs are opportunities prior to the start of New Student Orientation. Programs and activities range from outdoor adventure to leadership development. Offerings are listed below; visit the websites to learn more!

Please note: Eligibility varies by program; visit the program website for details. Early move-in dates vary by program.

GW Hillel’s LaunchPad DC
LaunchPad DC offers incoming first-year students a unique opportunity to start one’s experience with Jewish life at GW. Move-in is available on 8/19 with the full program running 8/20-8/21. Learn more and register at https://gwhillel.org/student-life/firstyear.

Adventure Bound
Adventure Bound allows new students to meet their peers, learn more about life at GW, and build lasting memories in the great outdoors. There are four options: Backpacking, Whitewater, Ocean, or DC Exploration and Service. Move-in is 8/17 with the program running 8/17-8/20. Learn more at https://go.gwu.edu/adventurebound.

LEAD GW
Ready to jump start your GW leadership journey? LEAD GW (Leadership Exploration and Development at GW) empowers incoming students to learn more about themselves, socially responsible leadership, and their new home. Move-in is available on 8/18 with the program running 8/18-8/20. Learn more at https://go.gwu.edu/leadgw.

Founding Scholars
Founding Scholars welcomes incoming first-generation college students to life at GW. Students will build community with other first-gen students, connect with faculty and staff, and learn about valuable academic and campus resources. Move-in is available on 8/18 with the program running 8/18-8/20. Learn more at https://go.gwu.edu/foundingscholars.

SEAS New Student Getaway
New Student Getaway is a three-day trip that all SEAS first-year students are required to participate in before Orientation and the start of classes in the fall. At the New Student Getaway, students begin forming friendships, learn more about their academic programs and university life, and participate in activities from whitewater rafting to volleyball, hiking, and ziplining. Move-in is available on 8/18 with the program running 8/19-8/21. All forms will be available in GW 101 and must be submitted by Sunday, July 7, 2019. If you have any questions, please email seasadvising@gwu.edu.

Women’s Leadership Program (WLP)
The incoming cohort will participate in pre-orientation programming centered around the four different cohorts, WLP administration, and one another. Move-in is available on 8/19 with the program running 8/19-20. If you have any questions, please email wlp@gwu.edu.
New Student Orientation aims to aid in the academic, personal, social, and cultural transition of new undergraduate students and their families to the GW and D.C. communities. The programming you participate in is designed to introduce you to the academic culture and class registration process, community expectations and resources, and involvement opportunities on-campus and in the city. We hope you take advantage of all that GW has to offer and utilize the people around you for support and guidance as you begin your journey.

For the latest, go to your student portal or https://go.gwu.edu/orientation.

*Move-in time frames (including early move-in for pre-orientation programs) will be assigned and communicated to students prior to orientation. International students can move-in on August 19. There will be a mandatory immigration session hosted by the International Services Office on August 20. There will be informal programming offered between August 19 and August 21.

Class Registration

Information to prepare for class registration is available in your student portal (https://go.gwu.edu/portal). Class registration will take place in early August.

Schedule Snapshot

- Opportunities for engagement with fellow students, staff, and faculty in a variety of different settings
- Drop-in advising options, campus open houses, and tours
- Convocation and Welcome Day of Service
- Evening social activities such as an outdoor movie, monument tours, and residence hall programming
- Breakout sessions about getting involved in campus life, campus resources, study abroad, and the first-year experience program, District Connections

Getting to Campus

GW is conveniently located near three major airports (DCA: Ronald Reagan Washington National, IAD: Washington Dulles International, and BWI: Baltimore Washington International) and D.C.’s Union Station. Public transit is available from each airport and train station. The Foggy Bottom/GWU Metro Stop is located right on campus, with service to the Orange, Blue, and Silver Metro lines.

Stay Informed This Summer

Over the summer, you will receive Next Stop GW newsletters with reminders of things to do, student narratives, and updates from GW community members. Keep an eye on your GW email inbox for these editions (and more)!
Navigating GW Systems

Transitioning to college is an exciting time, but it also comes with a lot of new processes, concepts, and systems. While you’re here, you will be using a variety of different platforms to do business, like checking your email, paying your bill online, and completing assignments for class. We want to introduce you to these commonly used systems so you’ll be familiar with them come August.

myGW - The George Washington University Web Portal (https://my.gwu.edu)

myGW provides you with a landing page to navigate other systems at the university, namely email, Blackboard, and GWeb Information System. Log in using your netID (first part of your GW email and password).

GW Email and Calendar (https://www.gwu.edu/email)

Access your GW email and calendar by logging in with your GW email address (netID@gwu.edu).
GWeb Information System (https://banweb.gwu.edu)

GWeb Information System (also referred to as BanWeb) enables access to important information related to your role within the university. Log in using your GWID number (GXXXXXXXX and PIN. If you have need-based financial aid, you may have already created a PIN. As a first-time user, your PIN will be your birth date in either MMDDYY or MMYY99 format. Once you log in, you will be required to choose a new PIN, set a security question, and answer and agree to Terms of Use.

Once you are logged in, you will see tabs for the following information:

- Registration Menu brings you to the registration portal and your schedule
- Student Records Information Menu brings you to transcripts, grades, and DegreeMap
- Student Accounts Menu brings you to the eBill Portal
- Financial Aid Menu brings you to your financial aid package, cost of attendance, and Federal Work Study information

Student Records and Registration
- Registration Menu
- Student Records Information Menu
- Student Accounts Menu
- Veteran Menu

Financial Aid Menu
- My Cost of Attendance

Blackboard (https://blackboard.gwu.edu)

Blackboard is a learning management system that faculty and staff use to share information and post class materials. As a student, you will use Blackboard to complete GW 101 prior to arriving to campus in August, as well as for classes throughout your time at GW. Log in with your NetID (NetID@gwu.edu) and password.

FixIt (https://go.gwu.edu/fixit)

FixIt is GW’s facilities request portal, which you can use to submit facilities issues in your residence hall. A facilities issue can be anything from an overflowing sink to a large pile of trash in a common space. You’ll be prompted to provide your GW NetID and password. Check the webpage icons and choose the service area that best fits your need. If you have questions or need to update your request, use the Comment Stream and a GW Facilities representative will get back to you.
A Different Approach to Dining

We’re embedded in the heart of D.C. and the food options in our city are boundless. Whether you want to explore the D.C. food scene with friends on a Saturday night, shop for your own seasonal ingredients and cook with friends, order delivery through the GET mobile app, or grab a quick bite to eat between classes, our open dining plan has you covered no matter your tastes or dietary needs. View dining options at https://dining.gwu.edu/where-eat.

DOWNLOAD THE GET APP at https://go.gwu.edu/dining.

GWorld Dining and Grocery Partners

With so many grocery and dining partners located on, or close to, our Foggy Bottom and Mount Vernon campuses, you have the freedom to choose what you want to eat and when.

Our partner list (https://gworld.gwu.edu/gworld-merchants) includes restaurants and grocery stores that accept Dining Cash and Colonial Cash. Remember, Dining Cash (required for all undergraduate students in GW residence halls) can only be used at dining and grocery partners and cannot be used for retail or service purchases. Colonial Cash is accepted at all dining locations as well as at partner retail stores, vending machines, laundry machines, and more. Colonial Cash may be purchased at any time and is not required.

Don’t see your favorite pizza place? Want to use GWorld at your favorite Chinese restaurant? We are always looking to expand our dining options to best meet the needs and taste buds of all GW Students. Suggest new dining partners at https://dining.gwu.edu/suggest-dining-partner.

Dining Cash v. Colonial Cash

Dining Cash is the primary fund for the meal plan and is required for all on-campus students. The amount of dining cash added each year depends on whether you live in a residence hall with or without a kitchen.

- Residents With a Kitchen: $3,050 Dining Cash ($1,525 per semester)
- Residents Without a Kitchen: $4,750 Dining Cash ($2,375 per semester)

Our dining partner network includes more than 105 food and grocery locations. With options including table service, delivery, food trucks, regional cuisines, and grocery stores, you’ll have easy access to food that meets your tastes and needs. Our open plan offers variety and freedom of choice to meet student’s dietary preferences, including vegan, vegetarian, nut-free, kosher, Halal, gluten-free options, and more.

*Dining funds roll over semester-to-semester and year-to-year.

Colonial Cash is a voluntary account that can be used in addition to Dining Cash, and can be used with GWorld dining and retail partners on-campus and off-campus, as well as laundry and printing. Money can be added to Colonial Cash through the GWeb system.

Who’s Who? In Residential Life

Resident Advisor (RA): student leaders assigned to a floor to support and advise residents and promote a residential community

Residence Director (RD): graduate students who live in a residence hall, plan activities for each residence hall, and support RAs

Community Directors (CD): full-time professional staff who live in a residence hall, plan activities, provide crisis response, and supervise RAs

Area Coordinator (AC): full-time professional staff who live in a residence hall, provide planning and oversight of students’ residential experience, advise hall councils, provide crisis response, and supervise RAs, CDs, and RDs

Faculty in Residence (FiR): GW faculty who live in a residence hall, mentor students, and provide intellectual experiences for residents

Faculty Guides (FG): GW faculty assigned to a residence hall who mentor students and provide intellectual experiences for residents

Hall Council: Student-led hall government that advocates on behalf of a configuration of buildings and provides social experiences. All Hall Councils together form GW’s Residence Hall Association (RHA)

Mailing & Packages

You may use a vendor of your choosing to ship belongings directly to campus. Items must be clearly labelled and sent to the appropriate mailing address for your residence hall.

Belongings should be shipped to arrive no earlier than 1 week prior to your move-in date. Packages may be picked up during move-in at designated hub sites or at Mail & Package Services (https://living.gwu.edu/mail-package-services). More details will be provided in the Next Stop GW: Move-In Guide, arriving in early August.

Colonial Bellhop is an optional move-in service in which members of GW Spirit meet you curbside at your residence hall and carry everything up to your room in under 20 minutes! Available for move-ins beginning August 17. All proceeds benefit the GW Spirit teams and any participating Club Sport teams. To register, visit https://GWsports.com/Spirit. For additional information, contact bellhop@gwu.edu.
Academic Life

The George Washington University’s academic life is defined not only by the ability of faculty and students to put knowledge in action, but also by the ability to take full advantage of GW’s vast access to world-class partnerships, policy-research initiatives, and one-of-a-kind learning opportunities.

Refer to GW 101 in Blackboard to learn more about your academic school, advising structure, curriculum requirements, guidance for course registration, and more!

Undergraduate Academic Schools: Snapshot

Columbian College of Arts and Sciences (CCAS) – Our oldest and largest college, Columbian is home to both generalists and specialists. At Columbian, we emphasize perspective, analysis, and communication; encourage collaboration with external partners; and inspire lasting change.

Corcoran School of the Arts and Design (CSAD) – The Corcoran School embodies what Columbian has defined as the “engaged liberal arts” by providing a platform for engagement, bridging creative expression and practical application, linking disparate fields, and preparing students for rich and multi-dimensional careers. We challenge students to investigate how art functions as a form of creative and intellectual inquiry. CSAD is a school within the Columbian College of Arts and Sciences.

School of Media and Public Affairs (SMPA) – SMPA is a trailblazer in the study of political communication, journalism, and media. Graduates of the SMPA program are leaders in advocacy, politics, business, and journalism. Students engage with the world around them through internships and access to decision-makers, community leaders, and power brokers. SMPA is a school within the Columbian College of Arts and Sciences.

Elliott School of International Affairs (ESIA) – When you study international affairs at Elliott, you won’t just study it, you’ll experience it. You’ll understand and engage with the world, building knowledge of economics, history, political science, and relevant areas of anthropology and geography.

School of Business (GWSB) - This school offers a distinctive educational experience to prepare global business leaders through a portfolio of niche programs that emphasize academic rigor, learning outcomes, and teaching excellence in both delivery and content.

School of Engineering and Applied Science (SEAS) – SEAS strongly supports co-curricular activities to broaden and deepen its students’ overall educational programs. The school also offers a highly collaborative approach that enables students to cultivate expertise in laboratories and influence in government.

Milken Institute School of Public Health (GWSPH) – We advance population health, wellbeing, and social justice locally, nationally, and globally by applying public health knowledge to enhance policy, practice, and management; conducting rigorous, basic, applied, and translational research; and educating the next generation of public health leaders, policy makers, practitioners, scientists, advocates, and managers.
GW Libraries

GW Libraries serves the research and learning goals of all undergraduate and graduate students and faculty of the university, regardless of department or major. GW Libraries’ wide range of services include workshops, 24-hour study spaces, and research help. With Top Textbooks you can access required textbooks for a select group of undergraduate, high-enrollment courses with traditionally expensive textbooks. Within Gelman Library, the University Writing Center provides consultations for dedicated attention to your writing and research projects at all stages of the writing process.

GW Libraries provides access to online resources, including databases and e-books, as well as physical resources. Access services at https://library.gwu.edu, Gelman Library (Foggy Bottom), Eckles Library (Mount Vernon), and the Virginia Science and Technology Campus Library (VSTC). The university’s specialized libraries, Himmelfarb Health Sciences Library, Jacob Burns Law Library, and Arthur D. Jenkins Library, offer services tailored to specific disciplines.

Academic Commons

Academic Commons is a one-stop shop for all academic services and resources. Visit https://academiccommons.gwu.edu or see us in person at the Ask Us Desk on the entrance floor of Gelman Library. Some academic services include:

Peer Tutoring
There is a wide variety of peer-assisted learning across campus, including working with a learning assistant, meeting with a peer tutor, or attending drop-in hours and review sessions. These change each semester. Discover the options offered for your course at https://go.gwu.edu/tutoring.

Writing and Research Help
Meet with a librarian for personalized help to strategize and find the resources you need for any project, paper, presentation, or article. You may also book appointments with consultants for help with coding, programming, data organization and management, statistical analysis, and geographic information systems. https://go.gwu.edu/consultations

Workshops
Discover workshops to learn skills for the workplace, as well as data gathering and analysis, geographic information systems, programming, and design. https://go.gwu.edu/LibWorkshops

Study Spaces
There are an enormous variety of reservable and non-reservable spaces for individual and group study throughout GW. Filter based on features and characteristics. https://studyspaces.gwu.edu

Fellowships and Research Opportunities
It’s never too early to think about getting hands-on experience through fellowships and undergraduate research. The Center for Undergraduate Research and Fellowships is ready to answer your questions and provide guidance. https://academiccommons.gwu.edu/fellowships

Be sure to check out https://academiccommons.gwu.edu to learn about academic services and resources available throughout the university.
Online Modules and Trainings for Incoming First-Year Students

AlcoholEdu for College – facilitated by the Colonial Health Center

In an effort to reduce negative alcohol-related consequences among GW students, the Colonial Health Center offers incoming first-year students AlcoholEdu for College. This online module covers alcohol and motivation, standard drink size, blood alcohol concentration, and key strategies for those that choose to drink along with those that choose not to drink. This training will be made available on August 1, 2019. A link will be emailed to students. For questions, please contact CHCOOutreach@gwu.edu.

“Think About It” Sexual Assault Prevention Training and Workshops – facilitated by the Title IX Office

The Title IX Office provides resources, training, and reporting options to students, faculty, and staff to address concerns related to sexual harassment and sexual violence prohibited by both Title IX and related university policies. Each fall semester, all incoming undergraduate students are required to participate in an online and in-person sexual assault prevention program to be able to register for spring semester classes.

Steps to Complete:

1. Part 1 – “Think About It” is completed online (should be completed prior to the in-person workshop)
2. In-person workshop – takes place on Sunday, August 25 (link to sign up for a workshop available on the Haven website in August).
3. Part 2 – online (complete after the workshop)

For more information, please visit Title IX’s Haven website (https://haven.gwu.edu).

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Online Educational Module – facilitated by the Office for Diversity, Equity, and Community Engagement

GW is committed to providing educational opportunities to students, staff, and faculty that challenge us to learn more about ourselves and others. As first-year students at GW, you have an amazing journey ahead of you filled with curiosity and exploration. While you will grow each semester as GW students, we want to provide you with a foundation in your first year that offers you language, tools, and resources to engage in thoughtful conversations about diversity, identity, equity, justice, and inclusion.

You will receive an email invitation from the Office for Diversity, Equity, and Community Engagement in August to complete the Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Online Educational Module. Every first-year student at GW is invited to participate in this experience, and we encourage you to connect your learning with your experiences inside and outside of the classroom. The module is a requirement for all first-year students to complete in order to register for your spring 2020 courses.

We are eager for you to engage in the Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Online Educational Module, and welcome you to share any questions with the Office for Diversity, Equity, and Community Engagement (diverse@gwu.edu or 202-994-7297).
Important Information from the Colonial Health Center

Mandatory Health Immunization Form: DUE AUGUST 1

ALL new students under the age of 26 must submit proof of immunizations as required by DC Code. Details at https://healthcenter.gwu.edu/immunizations. Visit the Colonial Health Center (CHC) patient portal at https://mychc.gwu.edu and follow the instructions below:

1. Access the patient portal and sign in with your GW Email Address (NetID@gwu.edu) and password

2. Click on the “Medical Clearances” tab on the left side of the screen.

3. Under “Medical Clearances” click on the green “Update” button to upload a photo or scan of your immunization record. Please ensure that all documents are legible.

4. Click on each green “Update” button next to each type of immunization and enter in the dates of immunization. You must enter in all of your dates for the required immunizations in order for us to verify your record.

5. Once you have updated all of your immunization dates, a staff member at CHC will review your record. Please check back to see if your immunization clearance was satisfied or not.

For questions, please email immunreq@gwu.edu or call 202-994-5300 (option #3).

Student Health Insurance Plan

The Student Health Insurance Plan (SHIP) is a comprehensive plan offered through Aetna Student Health. In alignment with the Affordable Care Act, SHIP guarantees that you can obtain necessary treatment if you develop a serious illness or injury. It also guarantees that you can obtain preventative medical services like immunizations and physical exams. All undergraduate students will be automatically enrolled in SHIP. It is estimated that all undergraduate students will be charged $2,690 to their accounts for the 2019-2020 academic year (August to August).

Waive SHIP at https://aetnastudenthealth.com. Those interested in the waiver must have proof of insurance and be registered for classes for the fall 2019 semester. The waiver period for SHIP runs August 1-September 30, 2019. For questions about SHIP, email ship@gwu.edu.

ALL undergraduate students, medical, on-campus nursing, on-campus Health Science, and ALL international students holding a J1 or F1 visa are required to carry student health insurance while they study at GW. These students will be automatically enrolled in the GW SHIP and must submit an opt-out waiver if they have another insurance plan that meets the required criteria listed below.

When the following services are provided at CHC, they are covered at 100% with no copay or deductible: medical office visits, prescription medications routinely dispensed at CHC, routine STD screenings (once annually), physical examinations, immunizations, and a yearly influenza vaccination when provided at the CHC only.
Internet Access:
Wireless internet access is available through your GW NetID and password. Networks are also available for certain guests. Find out more at https://it.gwu.edu/internet-access.

Equipment is available for wired internet in residence halls. Sign out the equipment through the IT Support Center at https://it.gwu.edu/support. Streaming devices (Apple TV, Playstation 4s, Roku devices, Nintendo Switches, & Xbox Ones) may connect to GW’s wireless entertainment network.

Email:
GW uses Google Mail for student email accounts. GWMail features enhanced storage capabilities and access to GWCalendar. Learn more at https://it.gwu.edu/email-calendar.

Printing:
Colonial Printing is a wireless printing service with over 60 kiosks available at GW’s campus and education centers. Visit https://printing.gwu.edu to learn how to print from your computer, mobile device, cloud, and more.

Support:
GW Information Technology (GW IT) offers several options for technology support, making it easy to get the help you need when you need it most. Visit https://it.gwu.edu/support for walk-up hours, phone number, and email contact. Submit an online ticket at https://go.gwu.edu/itrequest.

Academic Software and Technology:
Software packages like Microsoft Office 365, SAS (Statistical Analysis System), and communications apps are available to all GW students through GW IT. https://it.gwu.edu/software.

Some software is made available by your school. Learn more at https://go.gwu.edu/academicsoftware.

Digital media equipment, including digital video and audio recorders, is available to all GW students, regardless of school affiliation. Learn more at https://acadtech.gwu.edu/equipment.

Computer Labs and Workstations:
Computers, often with specialized software and higher computing power, are available to GW students with their NetID and password. Locations include Gelman Library, Eckles Library, and some academic halls. Learn more at https://go.gwu.edu/academicsoftware.

GW students in need of a laptop can request one for up to one full semester. A limited number of laptops are available to students on a first-come, first-served basis. Learn more at https://go.gwu.edu/laptops.

Streaming Cable TV and HBO Go:
GW students living in on-campus housing can watch and record live high-definition TV. You can access streaming services from a variety of devices. Learn more at https://it.gwu.edu/tv.

Technology Purchase Recommendations
GW provides minimum hardware specifications as suggestions when you are considering purchasing a device for your time at the university. Learn more at https://go.gwu.edu/GWtech.
Did you know in college that it is on YOU (the student) to disclose a disability in order to receive accommodations? Don’t worry—we’ve broken it down for you below.

What do you mean by disability?

Maybe you had a Section 504 plan or IEP in high school? While that is usually indicative of a need to register with us, it is not a pre-requisite. You could be someone with a physical, cognitive, mental, or chronic health impairment that substantially limits a major life activity. We must have documentation of an impairment to determine accommodations. Check our website for documentation guidelines - https://disabilitysupport.gwu.edu/document-your-disability.

The determination of whether a student has a physical, cognitive, medical, or mental health impairment that substantially limits a major life activity (and therefore has a disability) must be made on a case-by-case basis. How do we do that? By examining the documentation you provide! Check the instructions below on the relevant documentation we need.

Okay, that’s me… Now what? I want to register with DSS.

1. Submit a DSS Online Registration Form, which includes your supporting disability documentation, at https://disabilitysupport.gwu.edu/register-disability-support-services. Eligibility criteria for disability-related support services include the below. Please do not send us your Section 504 or IEP plan, as these do not count as verified documentation.

   a. Recent verification of diagnosis prepared by a qualified professional that includes recommendations for reasonable accommodations.

   b. Documentation that is current and relevant, substantiates how the condition impacts the student in a postsecondary academic environment, and illustrates a connection between the impact of the disability and the requested accommodation.

2. You will be notified of your eligibility status and will receive a plan of approved accommodations by email (at your GW email address).

3. Once your registration is established, you must attend a session during Orientation to review DSS policies and procedures. You can even schedule a meeting with us before arriving at Orientation!

What does DSS do?

- Assistive Technology
- Alternative Format Text Materials
- Classroom Access
- Housing Accommodations
- Interpreting Services
- Letters to Professors
- Note-Taking Technology
- Strategic Skills Services (coursework planning and organization, time management, writing management, career counseling)
- Test Accommodations

Make a Plan to Vote

Make your voice heard by creating a plan for voting during your time at GW. If you are an out-of-state student, decide if you plan to register in your home state or in the District of Columbia. If registering in your home state, consider registering in person before move-in day. GW students can sign up to receive election reminders, register to vote, and apply for their absentee ballot at https://gwu.turbovote.org.

TurboVote makes sure students always know when elections are happening and have the information they need to vote with confidence.
This is your guide to the next four years at GW. Raise High the buff and blue!
